Charles J. Casamento Appointed Chairman of Relmada Therapeutics Board of Directors

Globally recognized leader in drug development and commercialization assumes Board leadership as Relmada advances clinical development of drug candidates to treat CNS disorders

NEW YORK, June 15, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Relmada Therapeutics, Inc. (OTCQB: RLMD), a clinical-stage company developing novel therapies for the treatment of central nervous system (CNS) diseases, today announced that Charles J. Casamento has been appointed chairman of the company's board of directors. Mr. Casamento has been a member of the Relmada Therapeutics board of directors since July 2015 and is also chairman of the audit committee and a member of the compensation and the corporate governance committees.

Since 2007, Mr. Casamento has been executive director and principal of The Sage Group, a health care advisory group. Previously he was president and CEO of Osteologix and founder, chairman and CEO of Questcor Pharmaceuticals. In 2015 Questcor was acquired by Mallinckrodt for approximately $6 billion. He also served as president, CEO and chairman of RiboGene Inc. and was co-founder, president and CEO of Indevus (formerly Interneuron Pharmaceuticals). In 2006 Indevus was acquired by Endo Pharmaceuticals for approximately $650 million. He has also held senior management positions at Genzyme Corporation, American Hospital Supply, Johnson & Johnson, Hoffmann-LaRoche and Sandoz. He has served as a director of eleven other pharmaceutical/biotechnology companies and has been on the board of two not for profit organizations.

"Charles Casamento has been an outstanding member of the Relmada board of directors, and in his new role as chairman his insights and expertise will play an even more important role in guiding and advancing our business strategy in the years ahead," said Sergio Traversa, chief executive officer of Relmada.
